BARNEY BARNATO
COMMITTS SUICIDEFAMOUS SPECULATOR TAKES
HIS OWN LIFE.Leaps Overland From the British Steamer Scot While on the Way to England—One Report Says Death Was an Accident—Financial Circles Excited.

London, June 15.—A special dispatch from Funchal, island of Madeira, off the west coast of Morocco, says that on the arrival there of the British steamship Scot, which left Table bay (Cape Town) June 2 for Southampton,

"BARNEY" BARNATO.

It was announced that Barney Barnato, the South African "Diamond King," who was among the passengers, had committed suicide by leaping overboard. His body was recovered.

Leaders in financial circles here were greatly excited upon hearing of the death of Barney Barnato, and much concern was shown lest the announcement would cause such a fall in kaffirs as to bring about a condition bordering upon panic. It seems the general opinion that Barnato must have lost control of the fabulous wealth with which he has been popularly credited, or he would never have ended his life in such an inglorious manner. If that be the fact, his control of speculative markets has been based upon a fictitious bottom, and the announcement is sure to startle all who have placed their money in speculative stocks most closely associated with the name of the "Diamond King."

About a month ago it was rumored that his health was suffering from the severe tension of speculation, and in the later part of May it was reported from Cape Town that he was suffering from nervous prostration, and had been placed by his friends under restraint. This was subsequently denied by his London representative, who said that Barnato was suffering from a slight attack of cape fever not likely to prove serious.

The Daily Telegraph, which announces the death of Barney Barnato, while a passenger on the Scot from Cape Town, says on the authority of a news agency that he fell overboard.

Short Session of House.

Washington, June 15.—The house Monday adjourned until Thursday after a session that lasted forty-five minutes. The only attempt to transact business was a request by Mr. Lacy (Rep., Iowa) for unanimous consent for a bill for the relief of residents of Greer county, Ok. Mr. Henry (Dem., Texas) promptly objected, and then, after the usual Democratic protest against the Republican policy of not appointing committees, the house, by 88 to 78, with fifteen present and not voting, decided to adjourn.

SAY GREAT DAMAGE WAS DONE

Earthquake Shocks in India Were Very Serious.

Calcutta, June 15.—Later reports show the serious character of the earthquake shocks of Saturday last in this city and its vicinity. An extensive area was affected, causing much misery among many of the poor Europeans, Eurasians and natives.

The shocks were felt at Simla, Agra, Bombay, Manipur and at many places far down the central provinces. An immense amount of damage was done at Loogley, Burdwan and Dacea, where several persons were killed, and at Gapaloor, Patna, Rangang, Nangi-poor, Balisor, Mazaffarpur and Monghyr.

A terrific shock was experienced at Darjiling, where many houses were destroyed. Traffic on the eastern Bengal railroad is interrupted. Bridges have been damaged and a train was overturned on the Assam-Bengal line. The ground opened at Manipur and the town of Kohima, north of Manipur, was severely damaged.

The heat prevailing is the highest on record, 126 degrees in the shade having been registered at Jacobabad, on the frontier of Baluchistan.

DIES UNDER TONS OF METAL

Engineer Kramer Killed in an Indiana Wreck.

Winchester, Ind., June 15.—The northbound express on the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad was wrecked four miles north of this city at 4:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. David Kramer of Fort Wayne, the engineer, was killed.

The train was running thirty miles an hour, when the track spread, causing the locomotive, baggage car and express car to leave the track. The locomotive plowed into the earth and finally landed on its side.

Engineer Kramer stuck to his post and was buried beneath the wreck so that a hand only was visible. His body was not removed until after the arrival of the wrecking train from Richmond. He was 50 years old.

Fireman Grabel of Fort Wayne was seriously injured. He fell under the tender. Baggage man Martin Minch of Fort Wayne was also injured. S. M. Mundy, the express messenger, of Grand Rapids, was slightly injured. The smoke and the other coaches were not damaged. No passengers were hurt.

LIVELY DISCUSSION
IN THE SENATETHE MEMBERS TALK OF THE TRUSTS.

Messrs. Tillman and Hoar Tilt at Each Other—Allen and Pettigrew Discuss the Tariff—Hawaiian Treaty Is Ready To Be Presented It Is Said.

Washington, June 15.—A statement by Senator Hoar in the senate Monday that the honest, sober men of the United States looked with contempt upon the charges against the United States senate drew from Senator Tillman a stirring reply, in which he insisted that Mr. Hoar was entirely mistaken. The charge that senators speculated in sugar had been made by reputable newspaper men over their own signatures, he said, and the people wanted the charges disproved or their authors punished. Mr. Tillman said he had received thousands of letters in the last ten days from the people of the south, west and north, and he knew the people did not believe the charges were infamous. "We cannot hide behind our senatorial togas," he cried. He said he believed the charges and he had asked for an investigation. Newspaper correspondents had offered to prove that senators had speculated in sugar stock. If the senate declined to examine the point it stood convicted before the people.

During the debate on the sugar schedule Mr. Allen (Neb.) reverted to the colloquy last Saturday in which he held that it was the right and duty of the government to take legal steps to dissolve the sugar trust. He argued that injunction, quo warranto and other legal process could be invoked by federal courts against a state corporation engaged in interstate or international trade. His vote, and he believed the votes of the populist senators, would be cast to cancel the Hawaiian treaty as a means of developing the beet-sugar industry of this country.

Mr. Pettigrew (S. D.) followed in support of his amendment proposing that articles made by a trust be put on the free list. No tariff bill would be successful, he said, without some defense of the people against the trusts, and such a bill would meet with popular condemnation. As a protectionist, he offered this amendment, believing that with it the tariff bill could be defended against assaults.

The senate then voted on the pending amendment by Mr. Lindsay to strike out the distinction as to Dutch standard in the first paragraph of the sugar schedule, and placing all sugar on an equality at 1 cent per pound and 3-10 cents additional for every degree above 75. It was defeated—yeas 26, nays 23.

TREATY IS READY.

Annexation of Hawaii to the United States to Be Accomplished.

Washington, June 14.—A treaty for the annexation of Hawaii to the United States will be sent to the senate soon after the return of the president, unless present plans are altered.

The treaty has been written and all its details were fully agreed upon before the president and Secretary Sherman left for the south.

There is no doubt, it is said, of the president's acquiescence in the terms of the treaty for the reason that he was made fully aware of them before he left.

The treaty is on the general lines of the treaty negotiated during the administration of President Harrison and withdrawn by President Cleveland.

It provides for annexation without the exacting of conditions on the part of the Hawaiians as to the form of government to be vouchsafed to Hawaii, leaving that question to be entirely disposed of by the government of the United States.

The United States will agree, however, to assume the debt of the present Hawaiian government, but will come into possession of all the Hawaiian lands and other possessions.

Senators Hold a Caucus.

Washington, June 15.—The Republican senators were in caucus for more than three hours last night, and when adjournment was reached not much progress had been made. Three propositions only were under consideration.

These were the question of what to do with the Hawaiian reciprocity treaty, the advisability of giving a bounty on beet sugar and the question of an anti-trust amendment. The sugar bounty proposition was withdrawn, and the anti-trust amendment was referred to the Republican members of the judiciary committee.

TWO CHILDREN BURN
AT DAYTON, OHIOLITTLE ONES MEET DEATH IN THE FLAMES

The Mother at Work Downstairs is Unaware of the Fire Until the Arrival of the Engines—California Mining Town Destroyed With a Loss of Many Thousand Dollars.

Dayton, O., June 15.—Two children, 2 and 6 years, were burned to death at 11 o'clock Monday. A fire was discovered in the residence of Frank Prestel, 151 Nassau street, by some workmen. When the fire department arrived the flames had consumed the roof and were bursting from the windows. As soon as possible the firemen broke the doors and went upstairs. There, crouched in one corner of a room, were the charred remains of two children, Rosa and Albert Prestel. The two little forms were locked in each other's arms. It is believed the children were upstairs playing, and set fire to the house unintentionally. During the fire Mrs. Prestel was busily engaged downstairs, and was in ignorance of the fact that the house was burning until the firemen arrived.

Presiding Bishop Fallows was given episcopal charge of the synodical jurisdiction of Canada in the place of Bishop Campbell, resigned, until a new bishop is elected by the synod. Bishop Cheney of Chicago again made a request that his resignation on Friday be at once accepted. It was denied.

Mining Town Destroyed.

Auburn, Cal., June 15.—Georgetown, a mining town in Eldorado county, twenty-five miles from here, burned to the ground Monday. Everything was destroyed from the American hotel to the water company's office. In an explosion Mrs. William Newell was killed and Mrs. McLain and several others injured. The property loss will amount to $175,000.

Injured While Fighting Fire.

Brazil, Ind., June 15.—The country residence of Frederick Barrett, in Perry township, was destroyed by fire last night. Mr. Barrett climbed up on the roof to fight the flames and the rafters broke, letting Mr. Barrett fall in the room below. When rescued he was badly burned.

PRESIDENT MAY INTERFERE

It Is Believed That He Is Almost Ready to Act in Behalf of Cuba.

Washington, June 15.—Unless Gen. Weyler is withdrawn soon and there is a change in the policy of the Spanish government so far as the treatment of non-combatants is concerned, the president of the United States will indicate to Spain in forcible and unmistakable language the displeasure with which he views the atrocities that are being practiced upon the helpless pacificos of Cuba, and the suffering that follows their concentration in fortified cities. Just what form this remonstrance will take has not yet been decided by the officials of the state department, who now have the matter under consideration.

The president has been unofficially informed that Weyler is to be withdrawn and conciliatory tactics are to be pursued. If such is the case the whole aspect of the situation will be changed, and peace may be restored by granting complete autonomy without the interference of this government.

Less Wages or Idleness.

Lawrence, Mass., June 15.—The 500 operatives at the Methune Company's cotton mills at Methune were informed by the firm Monday that they would be given the choice of accepting a reduction of wages in order that the mill may be kept running during the summer months or be discharged at once and have the mill suspend operations. It is not known yet what action the operatives will take.

Bartley's Defense Laid Out.

Omaha, Neb., June 15.—The defense in the case of J. S. Bartley, charged with embezzling state funds, has outlined its policy. It will undertake to show that the apparent shortage of $500,000 is due to discrepancies in book-keeping. In the present case, which involves a specific defalcation of $200,000, it will be set up that the reason the books show no entry was to avoid a double entry.

Show Judge Boggs' Election.

Springfield, Ill., June 16.—The returns filed with the secretary of state for the election in the first Supreme court district show that Judge C. C. Boggs, democrat, receives a majority of 156 votes over Judge David J. Baker, republican. The total vote is 36,766 for Boggs and 36,610 for Baker.

Marked Children's Day.

Children's day was observed Saturday morning at the Seventh-day Baptist church. The "Sunshine" exercise was presented by the smaller children of the Sabbath school, none of the larger scholars taking part, making it a practical children's affair. The music was pleasing and well rendered. The orchestra of the church was beautifully decorated with large ferns and flowers, and the public evidenced their interest in the efforts of the children by being present in large numbers. The day was observed at the M. E. church on Sunday morning, and here also the program was furnished entirely by the children, with the exception of a recitation by Miss Millar. The floral decorations were both numerous and handsome. Appropriate services were held at the Congregational church Sunday evening, "The Child in the Church" being the subject, and the program was furnished by the children of the Sunday school. Beautiful flowers and plants added to the pleasure of the occasion.

The Graduating Exercises.

The graduating exercises of the Milton graded school took place Monday evening at the Congregational church, in the presence of a large audience who testified their appreciation of the literary efforts of the class of '97 by frequent applause and the presentation of sweet smelling bouquets. The music of the evening was furnished by Mrs. Albert J. Root, Rev. George R. Chambers and pupils of the school, and was received with much favor by its hearers. The graduates were Miss Clara Alma Rice, George Gilbert Waterman, Morton Eugene Davis and Ralph Henry Plumb and their diplomas were delivered to them with appropriate remarks, by Superintendent Thorne.

CITY COUNCIL MET
ON A WARM NIGHTLENGTHY SESSION WAS HELD LAST EVENING.

Mayor Directed to Borrow Money to Pay the Claim of Mrs. Miller and Also For the General Fund—Dog License Ordinance Referred—The Other Work Done.

Alderman S. C. Burnham, president of the council, presided at the meeting of the common council last evening. Mayor Thoroughgood being absent from the city. At the meeting it was decided to: Refer a "dog ordinance" to the license committee.

Order several extensions of water mains.

Instruct the mayor to borrow $3,500, $2,400 to be used in paying the Miller claim, and $1,500 placed in the general fund.

Paid bills, ordered street repairs, etc.

Alderman, Field, Rice and McLean were absent. The minutes of several meetings were read. The report of the city treasurer was referred to the finance committee. W. H. Pierce filed a protest against the vacating of streets in the Hamilton addition, and the highway committee was given further time to consider the matter.

Chief Spencer reported the refusal to grant a permit to Edward Smith to build a veneered building within the fire limit, but stated that no increase of fire hazard would be caused by said building. The fire and water committee considered the matter, and reported in favor of granting the permit.

The quarterly report of the chief engineer was received and placed on file.

Hold Auction Sale.

Alderman Kothman presented a communication from "The Exchange" regarding the holding of semi-monthly auction sales. The matter was referred to the license committee.

Alderman Miltimore of the finance committee reported favorably on a number of bills, and they were ordered paid.

Alderman Stoddard presented an ordinance regulating the licensing of dogs in the city. The ordinance compels the owners of dogs to buy a license tag at a fee of $2: provides that the dog shall wear a collar with a tag attached; and that any person failing to buy a tag shall be liable for a fine of not less than $5 now more than $25.

Alderman Stoddard asked that City Attorney McElroy explain the ordinance. The city attorney said that if this ordinance was enforced, it would do away with the worthless dogs that roamed the streets. The old ordinance did not compel people to license their dogs, but provided for the sale of tags when the dog's owner feels like buying one. Under the proposed ordinance, a man could not crawl behind the statement that he "did not legally maintain a dog pound, nor kill the dogs. Under this ordinance, however, the city would be safe in disposing of dogs that nobody owned.

Alderman McKey moved to refer the matter to the license committee. Chairman Stoddard objected, but the motion prevailed.

Extend Water Mains.

The following orders were adopted:

By Alderman McKey—To repair St. Lawrence place; that the Jamesville Water company be requested to lay water mains as follows:

On North street from Gold street westward to Palm street being about 800 feet placing thereon two fire hydrants.

That the fire hydrants be located by the chairman of the committee of fire and water and the chief engineer of the fire department.

Also that one hydrant be paid for on the four inch main which the water company propose laying on Chatham street between Pleasant street and Mineral Point avenue, said hydrant to be located by the chairman of the fire and water committee and the chief engineer.

CHIEF SPENCER'S REPORT

YOUNG SOLDIERS GIVE PLAY.

Makes Some Suggestions Regarding the Betterment of the Service.

Chief Engineer John C. Spencer presented his quarterly report to the common council last evening. It was as follows:

GENTLEMEN:—I herewith submit the quarterly report of the chief engineer of the fire department, showing the present condition of the fire department, with suggestions or recommendations as provided by the city charter.

Since January 1, 1897, the fire department has responded to twenty-four (24) boxes and nine (9) still alarms, making thirty-three (33) calls up to date. The prompt response on the part of the fire department to all these alarms is shown in the tabulated statement of losses. The losses range from nothing up to one hundred and twenty-eight ($128) dollars. The heaviest loss to date this year was on April 7 at 1:06 o'clock in the morning, being in the Smith block on East Milwaukee street. Here the loss on the building was $60 and on contents $68 making a total loss of $128 which was covered by insurance.

The department has made a number of long runs some of which have been a mile or more from the business center of the city while the department is engaged outside the "fire limits." I have adopted as a rule, which went into effect this morning, by which one hose company will remain at the station to respond to alarms should one come in. Just how this experiment will work with our limited force remains to be seen, but I believe it will work satisfactorily.

With the exception of a few minor details the apparatus is all in good condition although all the vehicles are in need of a new coat of paint and varnish.

While the houses have undergone some repairs this spring, the roofs are in bad condition, requiring patching, new gutters or conductors and paint.

Our horses are in good health, and to all appearances, in good condition.

The fire department is also in need of six new play-pipes and "cut-off" nozzles.

I would also recommend that two six-gallon Babcock fire extinguishers be purchased for use in the department. The good service of the two similar extinguishers now used on the fire patrol wagon, is my only reason for asking an increase in capacity, besides they will prove valuable now that one hose company will remain in the business center of the city to guard our most valuable property.

The fire alarm system, while it has and is now working highly satisfactory, requires some additional auxiliaries for its own protection, besides some additional instruments for making tests. We also require at least two city maps, upon which to trace our lines, thereby making it convenient for all members of the fire department to become familiar with the alarm system. This I deem of grave importance, as without these maps and tracing, it is almost impossible to instruct the men in the intricate details of the working of the system. It is also very important that the extent of our lines and the various connections with instruments and working, should be possessed by more than one man.

The call members of the fire department are disappointed at the action taken by the last council on their petition for an increase of pay, and request me to again call the attention of the common council to the matter. While I am of the opinion that many of the call members do not understand the action of the common council. I believe that the matter should again be referred to the fire and water committee, for further consideration.

After consultation with the president and secretary of the board of police and fire commissioners, I opened a school for the purpose of instructing the men regarding their duties as firemen, in the hope of enabling them to better to answer the questions correctly which would likely be propounded by the commissioners. All the regular men were anxious to receive such instruction, and have been enthusiastic in studying the lessons given them. Not so, however, with the call members, as only three have signified a willingness to undergo an examination by the board, unless the common council first takes action on their petition. This action on the part of the call members convinces me that unless the men secure the advance pay they petition for, they will quietly drop out of the service when they are called upon to take the examination before the board of commissioners. Six of the call members did not appear in the parade on Memorial Day after having been requested to appear by the chief engineer. Respectfully submitted.

JOHN C. SPENCER,

Chief Engineer.

DR HOBBS

HEARS MORE REPORTS

Notwithstanding So Many People Have Already Reported, the Number Increases Daily.

All Say They Have Received Great Benefit and Feel That a Speedy and Permanent Cure Will Follow.

It is but a short time ago since the second great free distribution of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills and Little Liver Pills was made at C. D. Stevens' pharmacy in this city, but numerous highly numerous highly favorable reports of the benefits derived from using the samples are coming in every day. The demand for these remedies at this drug store is exceeding all expectations. Those who obtained samples are coming back for full boxes—all with a pleased confidence in their speedy recovery from disease.

This condition prevails also in the surrounding country, from whence many applications were received for samples.

Tests have gone to show that Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills produce favorable results with a degree of quickness heretofore unknown in the treatment of kidney and bladder diseases and all ailments arising therefrom, and the Little Liver Pills cure all disorders arising from torpid liver, weak stomach and bowels.

At the same time no reasonable person would expect that within a few days from the time the first sample of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills was given out, good effect would be generally manifest, as the very nature of kidney disease especially is such that a reasonable amount of time and patience will be found necessary to test the real virtue of the remedy.

People who have dosed themselves with all kinds of so-called kidney medicines until not only their kidneys but their entire systems are in a state of prostration, should not expect to be cured in a day or two by Dr. Hobbs' grand remedies, however great his claims may be. The man who would advertise to cure Bright's disease—that fearful, insidious and dangerous ailment—in a few hours—should be drummed out of town as an impostor and a man trifling with human life.

The modesty of Dr. Hobbs claims is one thing that especially commands him and his remedy to the public.

What Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills Are Designed and Guaranteed to Do:

They soothe, heal and cure any inflammation of the kidneys and bladder.

They cure backache.

They cause the kidneys to filter out the blood all poisons and impurities, whether made in the system or taken in from the outside.

They render sluggish kidneys active.

They cause the kidneys to cast out the poison of rheumatism (uric acid), the disease germs of malaria and the gripe.

They cause the kidneys to keep the blood pure and clean, and thus prevent neuralgia, headache, dizziness, nervous dyspepsia, skin disease, eruptions, scales, tetter and rashes.

They cause the kidneys to work steadily and regularly.

They dissolve and cast out brick dust and phosphate deposits and dissolve gravel and calculi in both the kidneys and bladder.

They cure Bright's disease.

They cause the kidneys to rapidly rid the system of the poisons of alcohol and tobacco.

They yield a clear mind, sweet sleep, steady nerves, active bodies, full of the zest and happiness of living, bright eyes and rosy cheeks, because they keep the blood free from poisons and impurities that would otherwise clog and irritate it.

Healthy kidneys make pure blood.

Pure blood makes perfect health.

Perfect health makes life worth living.

Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills do this, and do it at all times. Dr. Hobbs Little Liver Pills cure sick headache, biliousness, nausea and all disorders of the liver, stomach and bowels.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1215—Magna Charta signed by King John.
1752—Franklin drew electricity from the clouds.

1775—George Washington took command of the American army.

1849—James Knox Polk, eleventh president, died at Nashville; born 1775.

1858—Mohammedan massacre of Christians at Jiddah, on the Red sea, near Damascus; the French and English consuls and 40 others killed.

1871—Commodore Josiah Tattnall, prominent Confederate naval officer, died at Savannah; born 1775.

1880—John Augustus Sutter, discoverer of gold in California, died in Washington; born in Baden 1803.

1888—Frederick III, emperor of Germany and king of Prussia, died; born 1832.

1892—A tornado killed 50 people in Minnesota. New bridge over Licking river between Covington and Newport, Ky., fell and killed 40 people.

MUST GIVE TIME.

People who complain that business does not revive as rapidly as expected, since the inauguration of McKinley, should remember that the pendency of the tariff bill, affecting imports and duties upon many thousands of articles, must lead manufacturers to delay production and dealers to delay their orders until the new rates are known.

Moreover, millions of dollars worth of foreign goods come into the New York market every day. Importers are still bringing shipload after shipload upon the claim that they were ordered prior to April 1, and can thus come in under the Wilson law rates.

This means that the country is being so overstocked with foreign made goods that months must elapse after the adoption of the Dingley law before manufacturers will find a home market for their products. Small wonder that the revival of business activity should be delayed.

HARD ON SILVER.

This has been a chilly year for the silver cause. The population of the nations which have rejected the silver standard in the past year is more than three times as great as that of all those taking this step during the ten years previous. From 1885 to 1895 the nations which adopted the gold standard were Egypt, Rumania, Austria, Hungary, and Santo Domingo, having an aggregate population at that time of fifty million people. The nations which have abandoned the silver standard in the past year are Bolivia, Costa Rica, Chile, Peru, Japan, and Russia, with an aggregate population of 180 million, to say nothing of China with her 400 million, which has gone a long distance toward the adoption of the gold standard.

THEY BEGIN TO APPRECIATE IT.

Diversification of industries increases the demand for protection. Southern men have, during the recent tariff discussions, demanded protection on practically every product of the south. Mississippi asked for protection for cotton and lumber, Louisiana for sugar and rice, Florida for oranges and tobacco, South Carolina for rice and cotton, North Carolina for various minerals, Georgia and Alabama for the products of their factories, Texas for cotton and wool, Tennessee for iron and coal, Kentucky for hemp and tobacco, Virginia for iron and tobacco. With a continued increase in diversification of industries the protective sentiment in the south will increase as it has in the north.

Conservative business men admit the value of celebrations and carnivals as factors in building a city. Bloomington's recent demonstration is declared by citizens to have been of greater benefit to the town than would the investment of $20,000 in a factory. The splendor with which Janesville will celebrate the Fourth would seem to be justified therefore on sound economic principles.

The haughty contempt with which every American woman will scorn the use of the National Convention of Dancing Masters against theatre hats is easily pictured. A decree to be of any force must come from a national association of milliners and the first effort to organize any such body, leading as it must directly to a millinery trust will be resisted by force of arms.

Spain was unnecessarily contemptuous in pushing away the rope thrown to her by Uncle Sam last winter. She may wish she had taken a half hitch around the forward cleat just for luck.

Janesville may have a regretful sigh as she reads that another five hundred lot of horseless carriages will be put in service in Paris, July 1.

A PROTECTOR.

J. E. DENNIS of the Minneapolis Police Force, Owes His Life to the Indians.

He Praises Their Instinct.

The Story of His Troubles Experienced in Dakota, and How the Indians Came to His Rescue.

Mr. Dennis of 3141 Harriet Ave., Minneapolis, writes to the Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co. as follows: "I want to say a good word for your famous Kickapoo Indian Sagwa. While in Dakota about two years ago my health was completely broken down, resulting from a deranged condition of my stomach. The poisonous alkali water aggravated my trouble until I realized I was in very bad shape. Nothing would give me relief until I tried your Kickapoo Indian Sagwa. I began to improve immediately and less than two bottles entirely cured me. Can recommend it to all."

Mr. Dennis has been taught that good health quickly follows when this—Nature's own great remedy as discovered by the Indians—is used.

Situated as he was in a strange land and taken sick with a disease that not only is painful, but which, if neglected, leads to the most serious complications and ultimately death, his troubles were aggravated by the water which he was compelled to drink, so that his condition was fast becoming critical.

Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, the great blood purifier and invigorator of the stomach, kidneys and liver will cure others as it has cured him.

Make these organs right. If they perform their functions as they should and the persons of the body are carried off by the natural channels, health accompanied by the ability to eat and sleep, is the result. Kickapoo Indian Sagwa is sold by all druggists, $1 a bottle.

CHICAGO MARKETS BY WIRE

Robert Lindblom's Letter On the Condition of Crops and Trade.

Chicago, June 15—[Special to Byrd & Law, Commission Co.]—When wheat went above seventy cents yesterday, there was a good deal of sentimental buying, on the theory that it was bound to go to seventy-five cents; but this morning when the market opened lower instead of higher, there was a general spontaneous disposition to get rid of that wheat, and they did so, and there is no other explanation necessary.

In fact this setback is a natural one, and if everybody had the power to control the market, they would have made it do exactly what it has done, but for all the apparent weakness I still adhere to the bull side of everything that is dealt in on the Board of Trade and outside of the Board of Trade.

There was a good deal of Kansas wheat sold here to arrive in August, and prices are two cents above the July option. It is only a few years ago that that kind of wheat sold ten cents below No. 2 spring or No 2 red winter and this is an indication of the demand which will spring up for the new crop of wheat when it can be obtained in large quantities and at reasonable prices.

Advices from Danubian territory are very bad as regards crops, but in India copious rains have fallen, but that has nothing to do with the present crop.

It is possible that the suicide of Barnato has something to do with the weakness, as it engendered apprehensions that perhaps stock markets might become affected by the disclosures which are sure to follow.

MRS. KRINER'S LETTER

About Change of Life.

"I suffered for eight years and could find no permanent relief until one year ago. My trouble was Change of Life. I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and relief came almost immediately. I have taken two bottles of the Vegetable Compound, three boxes of Pills and have also used the Sanative Wash, and must say, I have never had anything help so much, I have better health than I ever had in my life. I feel like a new person, perfectly strong. I give the Compound all the credit. I have recommended it to several of my friends who are using it with like results. It has cured me of several female diseases. I would not do without Mrs. Pinkham's remedies for anything. There is no need of so much female suffering. Her remedies are a sure cure."—MRS. MAN LOSES REASON
AND IS LOCKED UP

THINKS: "WHITELIGHTERS" ARE AFTER HIM.

James Holmes Runs All the Way from Milton to Janesville to Escape Fancied Pursuers—Sleeps in the Woods—Doctors Pronounce Him Insane—Taken to Mendota Today.

Constant worry over the thought that 500 members of the Whitelight club were after him with guns and knives, has driven James Holmes mad and this morning he was taken to the asylum at Mendota, by Turnkey Samuel Brown, for treatment.

Holmes is an unmarried man, about thirty years of age and is a resident of Milton Junction.

Of late he has been working on the Carr farm near that village and was always known as a law abiding and good natured citizen.

Although at times he was known to act queer, never was it even suspected that he was losing his mind.

Last Thursday afternoon Holmes suddenly took his hat in hand and made his way on foot towards this city. Nothing strange was thought of this for it was supposed that he would soon return. All Thursday afternoon and evening passed and nothing was heard of the missing man. Footsore and half starved he arrived in this city Friday morning, and while wandering about the streets he was arrested by Chief Hogan and Officer Appleby and taken to jail.

Doctors Say He is Crazy

During his two days' confinement he said but little and his daily actions led Sheriff Acheson to believe that he had an insane man in his care. The prisoner was continually by himself and constantly referred to the fact that "500 Whitelighters" were after him for the purpose of murdering him.

When closely questioned he said that he left home Thursday afternoon and ran all the way to the big woods north of this city where he made a bed among the leaves on which he slept all night. Early the next morning, he says, he ran the balance of the way to this city. While confined in jail he would eat his meals regularly and would converse with friends who happened to call to see him. When asked if he was sick he would answer that he needed no doctor. He seemed to think that all the world was against him.

Dr. George W. Chittenden and Dr. J. B. Whiting were then called to the jail and an examination held in the jail office soon revealed the fact that Holmes was crazy. This morning on the 9:30 train the unfortunate man was taken to Mendota.

He insisted that the Whitelighters were after him each "with a gun in one hand, and a dirk in the other."

Attorney J. W. Bates is coming home.

In a few days he will be back on Wisconsin soil.

The case against him at Genesee, N. Y., would not hold water, and the Beloit attorney is no longer in the custody of the officers.

Such is the message received by Mr. Bates' friends in Beloit this morning.

The word came in the form of a telegram stating that Mr. Bates had been cleared of the charge made against him, and would start for home tomorrow morning.

CHARLES SPOON was here from Evansville yesterday, buying horses.

The bride has been employed as cook at the School for the Blind, while the groom is a weaver in the woolen mills.

They left on the noon train for Aurora and on their return will go to house keeping on Cherry street.

Fire Insurance Notes

FASHIONABLE FURNISHINGS.

Cheerful Surroundings For the Bedroom.

Wicker and Enamel Chairs.

Bedrooms are usually furnished in light or bright colors, to insure cheerfulness of effect, which is considered beneficial to the health. Light natural wood, wicker, ratan or enameled furniture is preferred, light carpets or mattings and pale wall tints. Flowered cretonnes or silks are employed for the hangings, and a general gay-ety of tone prevails, as a rule. If the room is used for sleeping only, however, and not as a boudoir or sitting room, it is sometimes more satisfactory to have a darker tone prevail, as richness is more apt to induce slumber. Nobody likes a bed to look like a catafalque, yet an old fashioned four poster, with dark, richly colored curtains, is certainly more restful looking than lacquer, enamel and lace arrangements. A wall paper of moderately deep color, warm but not aggressive, floor coverings of the same character and curtains thick enough to subdue the light, give an impression of quiet, reserve and dignity that is very indicative to repose. Antique furniture, chests of drawers, tables and chairs of dark wood, made in a ponderous style, are particularly suited to the furnishing of large bedrooms.

Louis Quinz and Louis Seize styles of furniture are much in vogue at present. Gilt and enameled chairs and couches, of light and delicate forms, are upholstered with delicately colored materials in designs of flowers, ribbons and shepherds and shepherdesses. These materials may be all of silk or of silk and cotton mixed, the latter looking quite as well and being more serviceable. The curtains and portieres may be like the furniture covering, or of tapestry, which is still better.

An illustration is given of a very delicate white costume. The skirt, of white crepe de chine, is decorated around the foot by an embroidery in aloe, green and straw. The bodice is covered with bands of embroidery like the ornamentation of the skirt, alternating with ruffles of white plaited gauze. The tight sleeves are treated in the same manner, having a slight puff of white gauze at the top. The belt, bows and collar are of straw satin, the collar of plaited white gauze. The hat of yellow straw is trimmed with mauve gauze and mauve flowers. JUDIC CHOLLET.

PREVAILING FASHIONS.

Styles of Hairdressing—Lace and Embroidery For Elegant Costumes.

It is always a pathetic sight to see children of any age in mourning, and to put very young children in black is quite unnecessary. It is indeed out of fashion now, white being used instead, unmixed with color.

Although it has for some time been customary for American and English women to wear the hair taken plainly back from the face, in France short locks over the forehead are still seen—not thick nor low, but in sufficient abundance to give a softened effect to the features and to counteract a too high forehead. The hair is likewise waved all over the head and left full at the sides.

The most elegant costumes for day wear are now very much trimmed with lace.

Guipure and tulle, embroidered in yellowish effects, are immensely employed to trim bodices and sleeves, and are indeed of sufficient note to be considered a necessary decoration. In the way of novelty in this connection is to be found the way in which these laces are used. They often completely cover skirts of white silk. Effects of black and white are also multiplied.

The illustration which accompanies this article shows a costume for a young girl. The skirt is plain and of white voile. The bodice is of the blouse type, gathered in three rows around the neck to form a small yoke and gathered again at the waist. This bodice is of cashmere foulard, and is allowed to bag over a little in front. A wide ribbon of white satin is carried obliquely from the right shoulder to the belt at the left side, where it is secured by a bow, and the long ends are left to hang upon the skirt. The sleeves, of elbow length, have turned back cuffs of white satin in the Japanese style, the collar bearing also of white satin. JUDIC CHOLLET.

GIVES STRENGTH TO MEN

Free To All Who Are Weak And Worn

A METHOD TO CURE AND INCREASE THE POWER.

It is a remarkable fact that a man never appreciates the sufferings of others until he himself has passed through the fire of pain or remorse. Then it is that he looks around for those who are suffering; he wants them to profit by his experience; he gives his time and money gladly for the benefit of others and never tires of his zeal. The great point of this method is to work, struggling with remorse and fear, the natural outcome of habits that brought incapacity; a sense of lonesomeness and a feeling as if the best side of life had been banished forever. Such men should write to Thomas Slater, Box 494, Kalamazoo, Mich. He will send free by mail a plain, simple and full treatment about the method he used, and this will enable any man to get a complete cure at home. It is the method that Mr. Slater used to cure himself of the troubles that sap the strength and vigor and also enlarged his organs to natural size. The cure was complete, so satisfying and such a wonder to him that he has given it to the world. He will gladly tell others all about it, sending all particulars. He figures that he doesn't know of a better way to show his appreciation of his own cure and sufferings of others. There must be generous men in this world to set off the tide of avarice. Written to Mr. Slater—it will cost nothing for his description and method.

CHAPTER XIII.

A LESSON IN POLITENESS.

Within five minutes we had a big surprise, for the sheriff and Mr. Baldwin came back, and the former announced that Fred and Lord Ralles were free, having been released on bail. When we found that Camp had gone on the bond, I knew that there was a scheme of some sort in the move, and, taking Fred aside, I warned him against trying to recover the proxies.

"They probably think that one of the other of you knows where the letters are hidden," I whispered, "and they'll keep a watch on you, so go slow."

He nodded and followed the sheriff and Lord Ralles out.

The moment they were gone Mr. Baldwin said, "I came back to give you a last chance."

"That's very good of you," I said.

"I warn you," he said threateningly, "we are not men to be beaten. There are 50 cowboys of mine in this town who think you were concerned in the holding up. By merely tipping them the wink they'll have you out of this, and after they've got you outside I wouldn't give the toss of a nickel for your life. Now, then, will you hand over those letters or will you go to — inside of ten minutes?"

I lost my temper in turn. "I'd much prefer going to some place where I was less sure of meeting you," I retorted, "and as for the cowboys, you'll have to be as tricky with them as you want to be with me before you'll get them to back you up in your dirty work."

At this point the sheriff called back to ask Baldwin if he was coming.

"All right," cried Baldwin and went to the door. "This is the last call," he said, pausing for a moment on the threshold.

"I hope so," said I, more calmly in manner than in feeling, I have to acknowledge, for I didn't like the look of things. That they were in earnest I felt pretty certain, for I understood now why they had let my companions out of jail. They didn't care to risk hanging more than was necessary.

A long time seemed to pass after they were gone, but in reality it wasn't more than 15 minutes before I heard some one steal up and softly unlock the door. I confess the evident endeavor to do it quietly gave me a scare, for it seemed to me it couldn't be an above board movement. Thinking this, I picked up the box on which I had been sitting and prepared to make the best fight I could. It was a good deal of relief, therefore, when the door opened just wide enough for a man to put in his head, and I heard the sheriff's voice say softly:

"Hi, Gordon!"

I was at the door in an instant and asked:

"What's up?"

"They're gettin the boys together and sayin that you shot a woman in the hold up."

"It's an infernal lie," I said.

"Sounds that way to me," said the sheriff, "but two-thirds of the boys are drunk, and it's a long time since they've had any fun."

"Well," I said, as calmly as I could, "are you going to stand by me?"

"I would, Mr. Gordon," he replied, "if there was any good, but there ain't time to get a posse, and what's one Winchester against a mob of cowboys like them?"

"If you'll lend me your gun," I said, "I'll show just what it is worth without troubling you."

"I'll do better than that," said the sheriff, "and that's what I'm here for. Just sneak while there's time."

"You mean" — I exclaimed.

"That's it. I'm goin away, and I'll leave the door unlocked. If you get clear, let me know your address, and later, if I want you, I'll send you word." He took a grip on my fingers that numbed them as if they had been caught in an airbrace and disappeared.

I slipped out after the sheriff without loss of time. That there wasn't much to spare was shown by a crowd with some torches down the street, collected in front of a saloon. They were making a good deal of noise, even for the west. Evidently the flame was being fanned. Not wasting time, I struck for the railroad, because I knew the geography of that best, but still more because I want-willing to take for the object I had in view, and, since I had to take it, it was safest to get through with the job before the discovery was made that I was no longer in jail.

It didn't take me three minutes to reach the station. The whole place was black as a coal dumper, except for the slices of light which shone through the cracks of the curtained windows in the specials, the dim light of the lamp in the station and the glow of the row of saloons 200 feet away. I was afraid, however, that there might be a spy lurking somewhere, for it was likely that Camp would hope to get some clew of the letters by keeping a watch on the station and the cars. Thinking boldness the safest course, I walked on to the platform without hesitation and went into the station. The "night man" was sitting in his chair, nodding, but he waked up the moment I spoke.

"Don't speak my name," I said warningly as he struggled to his feet, and then in the fewest possible words I told him what I wanted of him—to find if the pony I had ridden (Camp's or Baldwin's) was in town, and, if so, to learn where it was and to get the letters on the quiet from under the saddle flap. I chose this man, first, because I could trust him and, next, because I had only one of the Cullens as an alternative, and if any of them went sneaking round it would be sure to attract attention. "The moment you have the letters put them in the station safe," I ended, "and then get word to me."

"And where'll you be, Mr. Gordon?" asked the man.

"Is there any place about here that's a safe hiding spot for a few hours?" I asked. "I want to stay till I'm sure those letters are safe, and after that I'll get on board the first train that comes along."

"Then you'll want to be near here," said the man. "I'll tell you—I've got just the place for you. The platform's boarded in all round, but I noticed one plank that's loose at one end, right at this high corner, and if you just pry it open enough to get in and then pull the board in place they'll never find you."

"That will do," I said, "and when the letters are safe come out on the platform, walk up and down once, bang the door twice, and then say, 'That local freight is late.' And if you get a chance tell one of the Cullens where I'm hidden."

I crossed the platform boldly, jumped down and walked away. But after going 50 feet I dropped down on my hands and knees and crawled back. Inside of two minutes I was safely stowed away under the platform in about as neat a hiding place as a man could ask. In fact, if I had only had my wits enough about me to borrow a revolver of the man, I could have made a pretty good defense, even if discovered.

Underneath the platform was loose gravel, and as an additional precaution I scooped out, close to the side boarding, a trough long enough for me to lie in. Then I got into the hole, shovelled the sand over my legs and piled the rest up in a heap close to me, so that by a few sweeps of my arm I could cover my whole body, leaving only my mouth and nose exposed, and those below the level. That made me feel pretty safe, for, even if the cowboys found the loose plank and crawled in, it would take uncommon good eyesight in the darkness to find me. I had hollowed out my living grave to fit, and if I could have smoked I should have been decidedly comfortable. Sleep I dared not indulge in, and the sequel showed that I was right in not allowing myself that luxury.

I hadn't much more than comfortably settled myself and let thoughts of a cigar and a nap drift through my mind when a row up the street showed that the jail breaking had been discovered. Then followed shouts and confusion for a few moments, while a search was being organized. I heard some horsemen ride over the tracks, and also down the street, followed by the hurried footsteps of half a dozen men. Some banged at the doors of the specials, while others knocked at the station door.

Knock at the Cullens' servants opened the door of 218, and I heard the sheriff's voice telling him he'd got to search the car. The darkly protested, saying that the "gentleman" was all away and only de miss inside." The row brought Miss Cullen to the door, and I heard her ask what was the matter.

"Sorry to trouble you, miss," said the sheriff, "but a prisoner has broken jail, and we've got to look for him."

"Escaped!" cried Madge joyfully. "How?"

"That's just what gets away with me," said the sheriff. "My idea is—

"Don't waste time on theories," said Camp's voice angrily. "Search the car."

"Sorry to discommode a lady," said the sheriff gallantly, "but if we may just look around a little?"

"My father and brothers went out a few minutes ago," said Madge hesitatingly, "and I don't know if they would be willing."

Camp laughed angrily and said, "Stand aside there."

"Don't you worry," said the sheriff. "If he's on the car, he can't get away. We'll send a feller up for Mr. Cullen, while we search Mr. Gordon's car and the station."

They set about it at once and used up ten minutes in the task. Then I heard Camp say:

"Come, we can't wait all night for permission to search this car. Go ahead."

"I hope you'll wait till my father comes," said Madge.

"Now go slow, Mr. Camp," said the sheriff. "We mustn't discomfort the lady if we can avoid it."

"I believe you're wasting time in order to help him escape," sputtered Camp, so angry as hardly to be able to articulate. "If you won't do your duty, I'll take the law into my own hands and order the car searched."

"Nothin of the kind," said the sheriff. "But when a female is in question a gentleman, Mr. Camp—yes, sir, a gentleman—is in duty bound to be polite."

"Politeness be — —!" cried Camp.

"Git angry as you like," said the sheriff wrathfully, "but — — me if any — — cuss has a right to use such — — talk in the presence of a lady!"

ONE DAY'S EVENTS
AT THE CAPITOLMAKING GOOD PROGRESS ON TARIFF BILL.

Sugar Schedule is Nearly Completed. Pettigrew Anti-Trust Amendment Rejected by a Vote of 32 to 35—Agricultural Schedule Taken Up by the Senators.

Washington, June 16.—The senate made a great stride forward Tuesday by completing the consideration of the sugar schedule of the tariff bill, except the provision relating to Hawaii, which went over. The first paragraph of the sugar schedule served to bring out all the speeches and the test votes, and when this was passed the other paragraphs of the schedule were agreed to without further opposition. As agreed to the schedule places on sugar not above No. 16 Dutch standard 1 cent per pound and .03 of a cent for every degree above 75; and on sugars above No. 16 Dutch standard 1.95 cents per pound, but on sugars testing below 87 degrees 1-10 cent per pound shall be deducted. The other provisions of the schedule relate to maple sugar, maple syrup, candy, etc.

Only one yea and nay vote was taken during the day, on the amendment of Mr. Lindsay (Ky.) to make the rate 1/4 cent per pound on sugar above No. 16 Dutch standard. The amendment was defeated, 32 to 35.

The Pettigrew amendment relating to trusts was then taken up and discussed at length. Mr. Pettigrew desired to have his amendment voted on as a part of the sugar schedule. Mr. Allison asked that it go over, but Mr. Pettigrew said he felt like having the issue now, unless overruled by the senate.

Mr. Hoar said he specifically objected to that feature of the amendment which permitted three or more men to form a combination and thus force the articles handled by them on the free list. Three men in Chicago might, he said, form a combination which would wreck 10,000 woolen industries of the entire country.

Mr. Nelson (Minn.) pointed out what he regarded as radical defects in the Pettigrew amendment, although he supported the general principle of it. He said the amendment might result in cutting off the revenues of the government. It would also place an entire industry, outside of any trust, subject to penalties because some small trust was formed in that line. The senator urged that senators should vote down all amendments, pass the tariff bill, and then turn their attention to some effective remedy against the trusts.

Mr. Allison again urged that the amendment ought to go over for the time being, and he appealed to Mr. Pettigrew to allow this to be done, but the latter refused. He maintained that every objection could be met, and he was willing to so amend his proposition as to make it an effectual remedy against trusts.

Mr. Allison finally tested the sense of the senate by moving to table the amendment, which motion prevailed—yeas, 35; nays, 32—two Democrats, Morgan and McEnery, voting with the Republicans to table and thus turning the scale against the amendment.

The tobacco schedule was passed over and consideration of the agricultural schedule resumed.

American Mechanics' Council Meets. Pittsburgh, June 16.—The twenty-ninth annual session of the National Council Junior Order American Mechanics opened here Tuesday with 200 delegates and visitors present. During the year 106 new councils were organized, and 10,899 new members were received. The finance committee recommended a per capita tax of 12 cents, and that the laws be amended so as to make the same payable semi-annually, in March and September. It also recommended that the services of a national organizer be dispensed with and an appropriation of $5,000 be made for the use of the board of directors for special organizers. National Councilor Shanner recommended that councils be prohibited from loaning their funds to a member.

Italy Will Increase Its Navy. Rome, June 16.—In the chamber of deputies Tuesday Sig. Brin, minister of Marine, announced a proposal to increase the naval expenditures by 7,500,000 lire beyond the provision made for that purpose in the ordinary estimates. He also announced that in addition to this amount the sum of 10,000,000 lire would be spent for naval purposes, the amount to be spread over successive years. The statement of the minister was received with applause.

Tobacco Men on Trial. New York, June 16.—Judge Fitzgerald Tuesday decided that the trial of the American tobacco officials should proceed with the jury originally selected. District Attorney Olcott then opened the case for the prosecution.

DEBS' NEW PROJECT

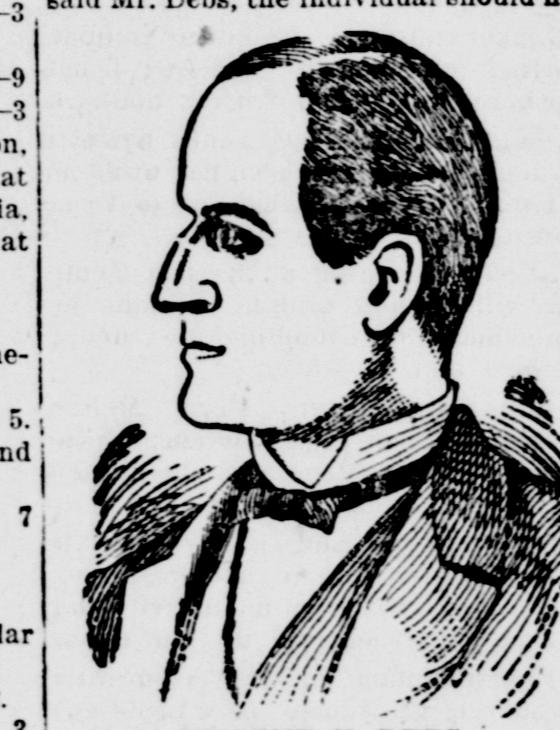

IS MAPPED OUT

SOCIALISM THE ROOT OF THE NEW BOARD APPOINTED BY LUTHERANS.

Large Crowd of Railroad Men Greet the Labor Leader at the Meeting at Chicago and His Speech Well Received by His Hearers—Scheme a Visionary One.

Chicago, June 16.—Handel hall was well filled Tuesday with railroad men who have in their heads a project for a gigantic scheme of socialism. The meeting was late coming to order and it was 10:22 o'clock before the proceedings were formally begun.

Eugene V. Debs stepped to the front at 10:35 and outlined his scheme. His opening sentence referred to the unalienable rights of the toiler and the knowledge of his own rights which has of latter years, he declared, been growing in the toiler's brain. The wage system was essentially brutal; yet, said Mr. Debs, the individual should not be criticized, but the social conditions which allowed such brutality. Ideas and plans for improvement were fully ripe for discussion and experiment. Socialism was complimented and spoken of as the uniform condition of the future, but the prospective and contemplative plans of socialism should not give way to immediate action.

There are more men in idleness, he continued, than can possibly be given work under any modification of the wage system. Hunger and squalor in a land of plenty, said the speaker, seemed to indicate that the Almighty did not rule in the counsels of the nations.

The dream of co-operation was not a vagary. It was a condition in which no man should be a master, no man a slave. For that grand idea a land of salubrious climate and fertile soil should be selected. Many states of the west—yea, even their governors—had extended invitations. The state set upon, men and women versed in economics and sociology should be selected as the pioneers.

To rescue the unemployed from streets and slums, from charity's degrading bondage, and to give them opportunity to apply their forces to the soil must be the objects in the new crusade.

"Work for the unemployed" must be the motto on the flag.

THE QUEEN'S DESCENDANTS

Many of the Future Rulers of Europe on the List.

London, June 16.—The Times publishes a table showing that in the ordinary course of nature the future rulers of Germany, Russia, Greece, and Roumania will be immediate descendants of Queen Victoria.

Commenting editorially on the fact, the Times observes:

"The British monarchy today has more definite recognition among the courts of Europe than even a century ago, when the king of Great Britain was also the sovereign of Hanover. Such dynastic considerations are perhaps of less importance now than they were formerly, but they tend to develop friendly intercourse."

Tillman Has a New One.

Washington, June 16.—Senator Tillman has given notice of an amendment he will offer to the tariff bill providing for a head tax of $100 on all immigrants to the United States. The amendment also makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by fine and imprisonment, for any person to enter the United States for the purpose of engaging in trade or manual labor without intending to become a citizen. These provisions are modified by a proviso to the effect that they "shall only remain in effect until silver shall be admitted to our mints for coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1, on the same conditions with gold."

THEY PLAN WORK

FOR THE MISSION

CAUSED A STIR IN LONDON TESTIMONY ALL IN IN THE HART CASE

Eager Inquirers at the Office of Barney Barnato, the "Diamond King."

London, June 16.—The officials of the Union Steamship company, to which the steamer Scott belongs, confirm the announcement made Monday in a special dispatch from Funchal, island of Madeira, that Barney Barnato, the South African "diamond king," committed suicide by jumping overboard while that vessel was on her way from Cape Town, which port she left June 2 for Southampton via Funchal.

The death of Barney Barnato has caused a sensation in financial circles. His office here was besieged by hundreds of eager inquirers and even then his firm had not received confirmation of the news.

Throgmorton street was filled with excited crowds of brokers discussing the news of Barnato's death. His self-destruction is generally supposed to have been the outcome of his recent illness at the cape, which, according to rumors on the stock exchange, was in the nature of brain trouble.

The African market, as a result of the death of Barnato, was depressed. Barnato consolidated was 3% lower. Johannesburg investment went down 1/4. Chartered company's securities fell 1%. De Beres mines went down 5-16 and Rand mines were 3% lower.

The Pall Mall Gazette, commenting on the death of Barney Barnato, says he has been mentally unwell for about three months and that he has been under constant surveillance.

Wants a Part of Missouri.

Kansas City, Mo., June 16.—Edward C. Little, private secretary to Gov. Leedy of Kansas, is in Washington on business, one result of the successful conclusion of which would be to move the western boundary of Missouri east a half mile or so, giving Kansas a narrow strip of land extending from the mouth of the Kaw south to the Indian territory. The claim is based on an assertion that the present line is about one-half mile further west than the line established by the original survey of 1820, when Missouri was laid out as a state. This would give a half-mile slice of the most valuable property now belonging to Kansas City, Mo., to Kansas.

Sad End of a Brilliant Career.

Louisville, Ky., June 16.—James P. Harlan, a brother of Associate Justice Harlan, was accidentally killed by a train on the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis railway Tuesday. Mr. Harlan, who was about 70 years old, was once one of the most prominent lawyers in the state. He was, however, the victim of an uncontrollable appetite for liquor, and was incapacitated for business despite the efforts of his relatives and friends to bring about his cure.

Gold Fever in Adams County, Ill.

Quincy, Ill., June 16.—There is great excitement in the northeastern part of Adams county over the discovery of gold on the farm of William Reed. He sent a sample to a mineralogist, who pronounced it to be rich gold-bearing quartz. It is not yet known how far the ledge of quartz extends, but many of the farmers of that region have started to digging to try to find more of it.

Canada's New Coal Schedule.

Ottawa, Ont., June 16.—Tuesday evening the minister of finance brought down the amended tariff resolution regarding coal. It is made uniform with the American duty as regards bituminous coal, viz.: 54 cents for a short ton, the equivalent of 60 cents for 2,240 pounds of slack, made dutiable at 20 per cent, but not to exceed 13 cents on a short ton. Anthracite coal remains on the free list.

Bartley's Motion Overruled.

Omaha, Neb., June 16.—The District court overruled the motion made by the defense in the case against ex-State Treasurer Bartley, charged with embezzling $500,000, by which the defense sought to obtain a dismissal of the case and a verdict of acquittal by the court's order. It is alleged that Bartley had $200,000 of state funds in the Omaha bank, which was deposited in his name as state treasurer and charged to his personal account and he drew out the cash.

No Inheritance Tax Rehearing.

Springfield, Ill., June 16.—The state Supreme court Tuesday denied a rehearing in the case in which it upheld the constitutionality of the inheritance tax law. This was the case of County Treasurer Kochersperger against the estate of John B. Drake. This winds up the litigation unless the subject should be carried before the United States Supreme court.

Elections in the Netherlands.

Amsterdam, June 16.—The results of the election to the second chamber of the states-general of the Netherlands are, as far as known, the return of twenty Catholics, twenty-two liberals and thirteen orthodox protestants. As yet it is too early to forecast the result, but the general impression is that the government has been defeated.

Failure Bad One.

Mankato, Minn., June 16.—The schedule of assets and liabilities in the assignments of R. D. Hubbard and of the Hubbard Milling company was filed Tuesday. R. D. Hubbard's assets are $162,446.60, and liabilities of $323,415.58. The milling company's assets are $133,70

BIRTH OF WISCONSIN TO BE CELEBRATED

PLANS FOR THE SEMI-CENTEN- NIAL OBSERVANCE.

The Official Program Has Been Made Out and There Will be State and Local Celebrations—Industrial, Historical, Literary and Military Features to be Prominent.

At the last meeting of the committee of one hundred in Milwaukee, Jan. 15, 1897, the chairman, H. A. Taylor, was instructed to appoint a committee to formulate a plan for an historical celebration to be held at the state capitol, June 7, 8, and 9, 1898, and also to arrange for local celebrations in each county.

This committee was duly appointed, and was composed of R. G. Thwaites, secretary State Historical Society, chairman, J. H. Stout, W. A. Jones, E. E. Bryant, W. A. Henry, F. J. Turner, W. W. Wiggin, F. A. Hutchins, President C. K. Adams, H. C. Campbell and G. P. Stickney. After holding several meetings, at which the matter was carefully considered, the committee recommended the following general plan. Later the details will be elaborated as circumstances admit, but at present it is manifestly impossible to present more than an outline.

A finance committee has been appointed and will soon begin work. Headquarters will be opened, and the enterprise will be pushed vigorously, in the hope of presenting a celebration of which the people of Wisconsin will be proud.

Governors to Attend.

June 7, the anniversary of the day on which the first state officers took the oath, has been designated as State Day. This day, declared by statute a legal holiday, will be in charge of the state officials, headed by Governor Scofield. The governors of Iowa and Minnesota, together with those of Wisconsin's sister states of the old Northwest territory Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan will be invited to be present with their staffs. The celebration will begin with a military parade. This will be followed by the welcoming of visiting officials and ceremonies of celebration including congratulatory speeches by distinguished guests, the visiting executives and others. There will also be an oration by some prominent citizen of Wisconsin. It has been suggested that a pleasing feature of this day might be a musical event such as an oratorio, at the university armory hall in the evening.

The G. A. R. and other patriotic organizations will be invited to assist developing the plans for this day.

Historical, June 8

June 8 will be Historical day. The chief event of this day will be the dedication of the new building of the State Historical society, with appropriate exercises. The meetings that seem to have the greatest historical significance will also be grouped on this day.

Reunions of the survivors of the constitutional convention.

Reunions of former and present state officers and members of the legislature.

Reunions of the survivors of various colonies—possibly meetings of various nationalities.

Reunions of alumni, old students, trustees and teachers of state colleges and schools.

Meetings of teachers, women's clubs, religious, civic, social and philanthropic organizations and societies, with appropriate historical addresses.

All of these meetings will be in sections, and in the evening there will be a grand general meeting, with a review of the state's advancement in matters of education, philanthropy, art, social science, etc.

A special effort will be made to induce prominent men not now residing in Wisconsin, but who have been identified with us in the past, to be present on this day.

Industrial Day June 9.

June 9 will be Industrial Day and will be devoted to the societies, organizations and interests that have contributed to the development of the material resources of the state. Under this head may be placed the agricultural societies, the mechanical and industrial organizations, the railroads and kindred interests. The plans for this day include sectional meetings devoted to the history and development of each of the great resources of the state. No one of the great sisterhood of states is eminent in more diversified interests, and it will be of lasting benefit if Wisconsin can place before the nation a history of her progress in such industries as lumbering and mining, tanning, the dairy, the manufacture of paper and machinery, etc.

In the evening there will be a common gathering to listen to a few addresses on the economic progress of the state, and perhaps give a hint of what should be done in the future.

The committee also recommend that the day be observed as a local organizations be formed in each county in the state. The objects prominently in mind should be:

Objects of Celebration.

First. Awakening and fostering an interest in local history.

Second. Preservation of documentary matter, with a view to its being deposited with the state historical society.

Third. Preparation and conduct of a country celebration May 28, 1898. These country celebrations should follow a general plan, but features of general interest in the history and industrial development of each country should be duly emphasized.

The celebrations would naturally partake of the nature of reunions, hence it might be well to devote the morning to meetings of early settlers. The afternoon exercises might include an account of the early history of the county, a paper of reminiscences, one on the development and influence of the chief industry of the county, and possibly other papers, the whole interspersed with music and poems, and in the hands of local speakers, pioneers, poets, etc.

FRED SPINN IS SET FREE.

State Could Not Show That He Passed a Check.

Beloit, June 16—Fred Spinn, the printer arrested the other day on the charge of attempting to pass a forged check, was brought down from Janesville for an examination before Judge Booth and on motion of the district attorney, Spinn was discharged. It is said the prosecution would not be able to show that the check found in Spinn's possession had been offered by him to any one, and that Spinn would show that the check he tried to pass was a blank check. Hence no case.

Jack Hess and Saunders, who were arrested by Officer Whipple with bags of stolen goods on their backs, were brought down from jail; the old charge against them was dismissed, and they were re-arrested on the charge of knowingly receiving stolen goods. Their hearing will be on Friday.

The milk delivered at Tiffany creamery varies from 27,000 to 33,000 per day. The shipment of butter on the 14th was 8,400 lbs. A large portion of it goes into cold storage. VanGorder Brothers report a good business in groceries and meats. The intense heat causes small crops to suffer, but helps corn. Whooping cough and measles are still among children in this section—but lightly. It is currently reported that the road commissioner for the south part of La Prairie is lost. At least with some of the most important and heaviest traveled roads in the town, not a sign of him has been seen near the station, and it is the middle of June.

A Matter of Interest To Travelers.

Tourists, emigrants and mariners find that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a medicinal safeguard against unhealthful influences, upon which they can implicitly rely, since it prevents the effects that an unhealthy climate, vitiated atmosphere, unaccustomed or unwholesome diet, bad water, or other conditions unfavorable to health, would otherwise produce. On long voyages, or journeys by land in latitudes adjacent to the equator, it is especially useful as a preventive of the febrile complaints and disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, which are apt to attack natives of the temperate zones sojourning or traveling in such regions and is an excellent protection against the influence of extreme cold, sudden changes of temperature, exposure to damp or extreme fatigue. It not only prevents intermittent and remittent fever, and other diseases of a malarial type, but eradicates them, a fact which has been notorious for years past in North and South America, Mexico, the West Indies, Australia and other countries.

THE RACINE CYCLE MEET.

College Students Play Upon Feelings of the People by a Joke.

Beloit, Wis., June 16—The portion of the city adjacent to the cemetery was thrown into excitement over the report that five men, supposed to be college students, were killing a schoolmate. They had him bound and gagged part of the time and pounded him unmercifully, judging from appearances. His cries for help were heard.

A score of men set out to rescue the victim and word was sent to the police. Two officers after an hour's chase ran the party down, cut the captives' bonds and tore the mask from his eye, whereupon he laughed at the officers and asked them what rights they had to interfere in their little ceremony. It proved that the occurrence was part of an initiation into one of the college fraternities.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1803—Christopher (Kit) Marlowe, English dramatic poet, killed at Deptford; born in Canterbury 1564.

1815—Napoleon defeated Blucher at Ligny, and the allies defeated Ney at Quatre Bras, both preparatory to Waterloo. The defeat of Blucher at Ligny led to the battle on the field of Waterloo. Blucher retreated from Ligny to Waterloo. Ney's battle at Quatre Bras detained Wellington's troops and prevented the junction of the Prussian and English. Wellington retired to Waterloo to unite with Blucher. The fate of Napoleon was settled by these preliminaries, for his salvation lay in keeping the allies divided.

1800—Prussia set her armies in motion and the single campaign war with Austria began.

1880—Edwin Percy Whipple, author, died in Boston; born 1819.

1862—Tornado struck train in Wisconsin, killing several people. Lightning struck Grant's statue at Chicago, killing 3 people.

Impatience.

"Whither are we drifting?" "Tis the question of the day.

And one that well may strike the stoutest heart with some dismay.

And it's hard to wait the answer and to watch the long hours pass,

"Till Mabel reads her essay to the graduating class.

—Washington Star.

Not Tired of Him.

Mrs. De Weary—And so you have been married five years, and are as much in love with your husband as ever?

Mrs. Cheery—Yes, indeed.

"Hum! What business is your husband in?"

"He's captain of a whaler."—N. Y. Weekly.

A Verification.

"I would gladly lay the world at your feet," the young man exclaimed.

"Dear me," sighed Mabel. "I almost wish you hadn't said that."

"Why?"

"Father is always saying you act as if you own the earth."—Washington Star.

Bicycle Ailments.

"Brother Jim has the bicycle face, Joe has the bicycle back, and Sister Sue has the bicycle leg."

"Any other bicycle ailments in your family?"

"Well, papa says he has the bicycle pokeybook, and it's badly punctured."—N. Y. Truth.

Optimism and Pessimism.

"What is the difference between optimism and pessimism?" asked the boy, and before his mother could reply the old gentleman looked up from his newspaper with the suggestion:

"One is anti-nuptial and the other post-nuptial."—Chicago Post.

How He Perished.

Dodd—I hear a great officer was killed yesterday. How did it happen?

Todd—He had captured a Turkish garrison. He was trying to repeat the name of its commander and died from want of breath.—Town Topics.

The Good Are Easy.

A swindler worked the gold-brick game upon a very pious man:

"I do not wish," he said, "for fame, but I always do the best I can."

—Philadelphia Press.

THE DIFFERENCE.

Dick—And how did you proceed?

Fred—Why, I just went up to her and asked her if she would marry me.

Dick—Without first telling her how much you loved her, and all that sort of thing?

Fred—Of course; I did not want to prejudice her judgment.—Household Words.

CHICAGO MARKETS BY WIRE

Robert Lindblom's Letter On the Condition of Crops and Trade.

Chicago, June 15—[Special to Byrd & Law, Commission Co.]—There was a little plowing on the bear side of wheat last night on the curb and it was sold way up this morning, but cables came unexpectedly higher, receipts of wheat were unusually small and market rallied a cent from the low price, which advance was subsequently lost in part on July wheat, but maintained on September and December. Outsiders, who were long of July wheat, are evidently selling it and buying September and December in place of it, believing that the new crop situation is sufficient to pull wheat on and that the cheaper price is sufficient inducement. If all the bulls take that view of the situation then the premium will probably disappear, but if a small proportion should conclude to stand on the July wheat the semblance of a corner might be very easily started but we prefer not to entertain ideas of manipulation because they are not likely to be realized. There is more chance for it out hardly any chance of opportunity being embraced. We feel simply like reiterating the views which we have expressed for four days simply to be on the bull side of property without entertaining any ideas of an immediate advance.

The bull argument in the corn and oat pits is the destruction of the meadows in many territories. Corn is bought in anticipation of a drought or a frost and when it comes this corn now bought will be for sale.

The Crucial Test.

Maine Lawyer—What is your opinion of the character of Deacon Blank?

Witness (cautiously)—I never heard nothing agin him.

"Don't you know him to be an honest man?"

"Wall, he's been fair an' square in all his dealin's with me, and with others so far as I know."

"Isn't that sufficient to prove him a man of sterling integrity?"

"Wall, I dunno. I never traded bosses with him."—N. Y. Weekly.

Very Plain.

Mrs. Binks (angrily)—Call that an argument? Oh, get out!

Mrs. Winks—Don't you say "get out" to me.

Mrs. Binks—I addressed the expression not to you but to your argument. I do not ask you to get out—to get out of the room or the house, or the town, or the country, or the planet, or the universe. Do I make myself plain?

Mrs. Winks—You can't possibly make yourself any plainer than you are naturally.—N. Y. Weekly.

Without Prejudice.

THE TREATY IS SIGNED

Japan Sends An Agent to Protest Against The Annexation of Hawaii By The U. S.

Washington, June 16—The Hawaiian annexation treaty was signed today. An agent of Japan entered a protest, which goes to the senate to-night.

London, June 16—All the afternoon papers discuss the Hawaiian question in the light of the proposed annexation of the islands to the United States. The Globe says: "The question is essentially international and cannot be disposed of by the decree of one power alone. Great Britain and France are in the same positions toward Hawaii as the United States."

Per contra, the Pall Mall Gazette remarks: "It seems probable that Hawaii will be under the stars and stripes shortly, and nobody here will say a word against it. We should be glad to see Hawaii an American rather than any other colony."

The Westminster Gazette says "Great Britain will not object to the annexation (of Hawaii), though it remains to be seen how Japan will take America's action."

Woodmen's Picnic, DeKalb, Ill.

For above occasion, C. & N. W. Ry. Co. will sell excursion tickets, June 16, good to return until June 17. Fare for round trip $1.50.

department are engaged.

John C. SPENCER,

Chief Engineer.

The new rules had their first practical application this afternoon. An alarm was turned in from box 13, corner of Ravine and Pearl streets, at 1:40 o'clock. Consequently the West side company, the hook and ladder company, and the fire patrol responded. Pipeman Abbott of No. 2 company going with the patrol. Driver Gallagher and the east side hose cart, remained at the station.Mrs. A. J. PHILLIPS, of LaPrairie, left this morning for a visit at Galesburg, Ill.THE TOWN TALES OF A DAY. MEAN HOBOS FIRED DRUMMOND'S BARNTHEY DO SPITE WORK IN THE TOWN OF ROCK.Three Buildings Were Destroyed With Farming Implements and Grain—
Horses Rescued With Difficulty—
Hogs Roasted in Their Pens—Loss
Is Quickly Paid by La Prairie Co.In order to vent their spite, tramps are supposed to have set fire to barns on the James Drummond farm in the town of Rock. The buildings were destroyed, and the loss is $1,200.Sufficient evidence is in the hands of Mr. Drummond to convince him that hobos were responsible.The Drummond farm is situated three miles from this city, on one of the main roads in the town of Rock.
During the past few days tramps traveling in regular gangs have been seen in this section. On Sunday night the Drummond family retired about 10:30 o'clock and at that time all was apparently well about the place.Between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock Mrs. James Helms, who was visiting there, was suddenly awakened by a bright light that flashed about her room. She got up and looked out of the window. The second floor of the main barn was then enveloped in flames and the fire was fast eating its way to the ground floor, where the live stock were quartered. Mr. Drummond and his family were aroused and no time was lost in notifying the surrounding farmers.

Save Horses With Difficulty.

The work of rescuing the imprisoned horses was first taken in hand and four valuable steeds were saved with much difficulty. The last animal had to be severely beaten before it would pass through the smoke and flames.
Fifteen hogs were less fortunate.
They were roasted alive in their pens.
The leaping flames then communicated to two adjoining barns and they were quickly consumed. With these two structures valuable machinery, three set of harness, and 500 bushels of oats were burned. The task of saving the house then received the attention of those who were on the grounds, and after a hard fought battle it was saved from what at one time seemed certain destruction.Mr. Drummond was in the city yesterday and says that his total loss at a low figure is $12,000. He has $2,300 insurance in the La Prairie Fire Insurance company on all his buildings, and inside of forty-eight hours they adjusted his loss and paid him $828.
The work of rebuilding will commence

THE GASOLINE CAUGHT FIRE.

One Hundred Dollars Damage Done to a Residence.Mrs. Butler, of 68 Palm street, put a quantity of gasoline on the stove to warm this afternoon. Fifteen minutes later the fire department was headed that way in response to an alarm from box 13. The gasoline caught fire while Mrs. Butler was in another room and when she returned it was all afire.
Mrs. Butler was quite painfully burned.
The building is owned by Mrs. Leonard and was insured for $100. That sum will cover the loss. The fire patrol crossed Fourth avenue bridge,
and reached the blaze in quick time,
but the other apparatus was shut off
for a time at the crossing, by a train.

Miss Cora M. Rutter.

Miss Cora M. Rutter died last evening at 6:15 o'clock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Rutter, corner of Center and High streets, aged nineteen years. Her death was sudden and unexpected although she had been in ill health for some time past. Last winter Miss Rutter was taken sick with pneumonia and the disease developed into consumption.She was able to attend church on Sunday evening and was about the house on Monday but during the day
she was afflicted with pains about the heart that continued to increase in severity until death came to her release.Miss Rutter was born and raised in this city. She was a member of an enthusiastic worker in the First M.
E. church, the Epworth League and among her friends in these orders, as well as among all who knew her.The funeral will be held from the home at 2 o'clock and from the First

M. E. church at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Rev. H. W. Thompson will officiate, and the Epworth League

Funeral of Mrs. Murray

Every available seat in St. Patrick's church was occupied this morning by loving friends who came to pay their last respects to the late Mrs. John Murray. At 9 o'clock services conducted by the Rev. J. J. Collins were held. The floral tributes that surrounded the coffin were numerous and beautiful. The interment was in Mount Olivet cemetery and numerous friends followed the remains to their last resting place. The pall bearers were John Connelly, John Birmingham, John Lawler, John
Riley, Patrick Lillis and Thomas Costello.

Funeral of Henry Jarvis

The funeral of Henry Jarvis was held this afternoon from the First M.
E. church at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. H. W.

JAMES CLARK WAS IN LUCK

He Went to Jail Instead of to State's PrisonJames Clark is a very lucky young man. In the municipal court this morning he appeared in answer to the charge of stealing two dollars from the person of Mrs. Caldwell, of the town of Rock. On pleading guilty he was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs or to be committed to the county jail for a term not to exceed fifteen days. In view of the fact that the court could have given the prisoner
seven years in prison as he has once been there, Clark should profit by his narrow escape.

About Strawberries.

Every lady who is contemplating putting up strawberries should leave her order with us at once, while berries are good and cheap. The home crop will probably be a failure on account of dry weather; at least that is the outlook at present, and what berries there are
will be small and shrunken, and worth little for preserves.Miss Rutter was born and raised in this city. She was a member of an

VARIOUS NOTES.

Skin Beautifiers—To Renew Cream and Ecco Laces.

Inquiries are always being made as to the skin and complexion washes.
There are very many deleterious ones and others which are quite harmless. One of the most innocent of these skin beautifiers is so simple that it may be made at a moment's notice by any one. It consists of powdered starch and glycerin mixed into paste, no heat being employed. This is to

RED CLOTH GOWN.

be applied all over the face every night
and is said to whiten the skin and prevent wrinkles.

Silk is very much worn by women
young and old. The striped silks, especially in changeable effects, are greatly liked for summer costumes.

Cream and ecco laces are apt to become white after repeated washings. Their tint may be preserved by rinsing them in cold water which has not touched metal.

Wash gowns of lilac or violet muslin, nainsook or organdie sometimes fade in laundrying. If purple ink is thoroughly mixed in the water in which they are rinsed, their color will keep bright and fresh.

Where embonpoint is increased after middle age there is no safe and practical way of reducing flesh, since with some persons the natural tendency is toward fat on the downhill of life. In youth, however, superfluous weight is often the result of indolence, lack of exercise or too much food. Even among women there are those who eat more than they require and often also. This will do if they are thin, which is rarely the case, but if they are of a robust build they must pay for the pleasure of eating by the pain of growing fat.
A moderate amount of food, no sweets or beer and plenty of exercise ought to keep any young woman within proper limit of size, provided her fat is not due to ill health.

The picture given today shows a costume of red cloth. The plain skirt is trimmed around the foot with graduated vertical lines of black braid, fastened at the top by gold buttons. The tight coat bodice has a very short, rather full basque and is trimmed with black braid and gold buttons. It opens over a full chemisette of cream mouseline de soie. The close sleeves have black satin cuffs, and the collar and corslet are also of black satin.
The hat of red straw is trimmed above and below the brim by red poppies and is also ornamented with plaitings of red mouseline de soie. JUDIC CHOLLET.

SUMMER FASHIONS.

Silver, Pearl and Mouse Colors—Effective
Costumes of Taffeta.

Lace of all colors is a novelty of the season. It is of a very heavy pattern and embroidered in silk and metal effects. For nice dresses the effect is charming, lace of

RED HAT.

either the same or a contrasting color
being employed. Black and white combinations are also much seen, white guipure or other heavy lace being used over black satin and chantilly over white silk. Other black laces and black grenadine are liked over dull blue likewise. They are also used over pink, straw and mandarin, but the effect is rather startling and more appropriate for evening than daylight wear.
Ecco embroidered tulle over sky blue gives a very pretty combination, as does mauve or lavender gauze with white gauze.

Grey is having a notable success in silver, pearl and mouse shades, in mouseline de soie, foulard, taffeta and cloth. Combined with white it is especially delicate.

A great deal of work is now put on the inside as well as the outside of garments.
The linings are of the best quality and carefully put in and the interior finish is as neat and thorough as that of the outside. Often the seams do not show at all in skirts and bodices, and when they do show the edges are either folded in and secured smoothly or are bound with silk.
There is much more satisfaction in having a costume well made in every particular than in knowing that all the work is put on the outside.

The illustration shows a hat of heavy red straw. The brim, which is rather wide, is caught up behind and about red glace taffeta mingled with leaves of red gauze are placed under it. The crown is concealed under a ruche of red glace taffeta, and the hat is trimmed additionally with leaves of red gauze and one frise plume. JUDIC CHOLLET.

GIVES STRENGTH TO MEN

Free to all who are weak and worn

A METHOD TO CURE AND INCREASE THE POWER.

It is a remarkable fact that a man never appears in the suffering of others until he himself has passed through the fire of pain or remorse.
Then it is that he looks around for those who are suffering; he wants them to profit by his experience; he gives his time and money gladly for the benefit of others and never tires of his zeal.

There are plenty of men weak and worn out struggling with remorse and fear, the natural outcome of habits that brought incapacity; a sense of Jonesiness and a feeling as if the bottom of life had been banished forever.
Such men may write to Mr. Slater, 1005 S. State, Box 494, Kalamazoo, Mich. He will send free by mail, in a plain, sealed envelope, full particulars about the method he used, and this will enable any man to get a complete cure at home. It is the method that Mr. Slater used to cure himself of the effects of the straits and vicissi-tude and enlarged his organs of natural size. The cure was complete, so satisfying and such a wonderful change from his former condition that he will gladly tell others all about it, sending all particulars. He figures that he doesn't know of a better way to show his appreciation of his own success in curing others. There must be generous men in this world out of the tide of avarice. Write to Mr. Slater—it will cost nothing for his description and method.

CHAPTER XIV.
"LISTENERS NEVER HEAR ANYTHING GOOD."

Before I had ceased chuckling over the sheriff's indignant declaration of the canons of etiquette I heard Mr. Cullen's voice demanding to know what the trouble was. It was quickly explained to him that I had escaped. He at once gave them permission to search his car and went in with the sheriff and the cowboys. Apparently Madge went in, too, for in a moment I heard Camp say in a low voice:

"Two of you fellows get down below the car and crawl in under the truck where you can't be seen. Evidently that cuss isn't here, but he's likely to come by and by. If so, nab him if you can, and if you can't fire two shots. Mosely, are you heeled?"

"Do I chaw terbacy?" asked Mosely ironically, clearly insulted at the suggestion that he would travel without a gun.

"Then keep a sharp lookout and listen to everything you hear, especially the whereabouts of some letters. If you can spot their lay, crawl out and get word to me at once. Now, under you go before they come out."

I heard two men drop into the gravel close alongside of where I lay and then crawl under the truck of 218. They weren't a moment too soon, for the next instant I heard two or three people jump on to the platform and Albert Cullen's voice drawl, "Aw, by Jove, what's the row?" Camp not enlightening them, Lord Ralles suggested that they get on the car to find out, and the three did so. A moment later the sheriff came to the door and told Camp that I was not to be found.

"I told you this was the last place to look for the cuss, Mr. Camp," he said. "We've just disconcerted the lady for nothing."

"Then we must search elsewhere," said Camp. "Come on, boys."

The sheriff turned and made another elaborate apology for having had to trouble the lady.

I heard Madge tell him that he hadn't troubled her at all, and then, as the cowboys and Camp walked off, she added, "And, Mr. Gunton, I want to thank you for reprimanding Mr. Camp's swearing."

"Thank you, miss," said the sheriff. "We fellers are a little rough at times, but we know what's due to a lady."

"Papa," said Madge as soon as he was out of hearing, "the sheriff is the most beautiful swearer I ever heard."

For awhile there was silence round the station. I suppose the party in 218 were comparing notes, while the two cowboys and I had the best reasons for being quiet. Presently, however, the men came out of the car and jumped on the platform. Madge evidently followed them to the door, for she called, "Please let me know the moment anything happens or you learn something."

"Better go to bed, Madgy," Albert called. "You'll only worry, and it's after 3."

"I couldn't sleep if I tried," she answered.

Their footsteps died away in a moment, and I heard her close the door of 218. In a few moments she opened it again, and stepping down to the station platform, began to pace up and down it. If I had only dared, I could have put my finger through the crack of the planks and touched her foot as she walked over my head, but I was afraid it might startle her into a shriek, and there was no explaining to her what it meant without telling the cowboys how close they were to their quarry.

Madge hadn't walked from one end of the platform to the other more than three or four times when I heard some one coming. She evidently heard it also, for she said:

"I began to be afraid you hadn't understood me."

"I thought you told me to see first if I were needed," said a voice that even the distance and the planks did not prevent me from recognizing as that of Lord Ralles.

"Yes," said she. "You are sure you can be spared?"

"I couldn't be of the slightest use," said Ralles, getting on to the platform and joining Madge. "It's as black as ink everywhere, and I don't think there's anything to be done till daylight."

"Then I'm glad you came back, for I really want to say something—to do the greatest favor of you."

"You only have to tell me what it is," said his lordship.

"Even that is very hard," said Madge. "If—if—Oh, I'm afraid I haven't the courage after all."

"I'll be glad to do anything I can."

"It's—well—oh, dear, I can't. Let's walk a little, while I think how to put it."

They began to walk, which took a weight off my mind, as I had been forced to hear every word said thus far and was dreading what might follow, since I was perfectly helpless to warn them. The platform was built around the station and in a moment they were out of hearing.

Before many seconds were over, however, they had walked round the building, and I heard Lord Ralles say:

"You really don't mean that he's insulted you?"

"That is just what I do mean," cried Madge indignantly. "It's been almost past endurance. I haven't dared to tell Queen Victoria's Favorite Daughter.

Princess Henry of Battenberg, who attained the age of 40 a short time ago, although perhaps not the most brilliant of the queen's daughters, has ever been considered the most lovable. During the last quarter of a century her royal highness has been the queen's constant and most devoted companion, and the common sorrow of widowhood has brought them, if possible, more closely together than they were before.—London Figaro.

THE KANSAS CITY JOURNAL TELLS HOW MISS ETHEL HESKINSON THE OTHER DAY STARTED FROM CORNING TO SENECA TO TAKE THE EXAMINATION FOR TEACHERS. REACHING A STREAM WHICH HAD BEEN SWOLLEN BY THE FLOODS, HER HORSES AND BUGGY WERE WASHED AWAY. SHE KEPT HER HEAD, HOWEVER, AND THE HORSES MANAGED TO SWIM ON TO THE OTHER SIDE, AFTER FLOATING QUITE A DISTANCE DOWN THE STREAM, THOUGH ALL THE TIME THE BUGGY WAS SO FAR BELOW THE SURFACE THAT THE WATER CAME UP TO HER ARMPITS. ONCE ON THE BANK, SHE DROVE HURRIEDLY INTO SENECA, BORROWED SOME DRY CLOTHES FROM AN ACCOMPLAISSE, RAN OVER TO THE COURTHOUSE, TOOK THE EXAMINATION, AND TRIUMPHANTLY BORE OFF A FIRST GRADE CERTIFICATE.

TOMATO BALM.

While tomatoes are ripe and plentiful they are excellent to remove freckles and muddiness from the skin. A woman with a peachlike bloom on her skin declares she has used nothing else besides soap from her girlhood. A thorough rubbing of the skin once or twice daily while the season lasts with a ripe tomato will work wonders, and if this is found to be the very thing for certain complexions the canned may be used occasionally through the winter. Those canned nearly whole must be chosen, as they are the least cooked and are more efficacious in the raw state.

THE COLOR QUESTION.

Coffures, Becoming and Unbecoming.
Light Bodices For the Theater.

The time is past when certain colors only are worn by certain women. Of course it will always be the case that two or three colors are more becoming to one individual than the rest of the rainbow, but now there are so many frills, fur-boleros and contrasting modifications that a tint unbecoming in itself may be manipulated so that its ill effects are neutralized. The white accessories now so much worn are a great assistance in this matter, as they may be so arranged that the color of the gown is not seen next the face.

Voluminous coiffures are best suited to a small face, while a large countenance over silk, or linon, and on these materials are applied narrow galloon, lace insertion and similar trimmings. With the short bolero and bouffant chemisette the high belt is worn, fastening at the side under a large bow.

Not Long to Live.
She was very much concerned about the consumptive-looking man next door.

"Poor fellow," she said. "He hasn't long to live."

"Why do you say that?" she was asked. "You don't know anything about his case."

"Well," she replied. "I was told he was dying by inches, and anyone can see that there isn't more than five feet and one inch of him."—Chicago Post.

A Victim of Prejudice.

"What brought you to this place, my good friend?" inquired a visitor at the prison of a convict.

"A mere matter of opinion got me here, sir."

"Impossible!"

"No, sir. I expressed the opinion that I was innocent, and the jury expressed the opinion that I wasn't. It's a hard world, sir."—Tit-Bits.

Her Volubility.

SUMMER WRAP.

demands that the size of the head shall not be increased by either expansive hair-dressing or large headgear. The hair is in all cases waved, however.

It is now fashionable to dress for the theater in very light bodices, much decorated, and tiny bonnets of flowers or ribbon, or no hat at all is worn. It would be a good idea if every theater would have a convenient dressing room in which hats might be checked and kept safely. As it is now, many ladies attending matinees are obliged to hold their hats in their laps during the entire performance and then put them on without the aid of a mirror.

An illustration is given of a summer wrap of black satin, embroidered with jet. It fits the figure at the back and in front, and is trimmed with very full plaitings of black mouseline de soie, which also form a short basque. Bows of black satin are placed on the shoulders and at the waist in front and behind. A thick ruche of black gauze surrounds the neck. The hat is of black straw, trimmed with black ostrich plumes and yellow roses.

BODICES.

Lace Ruffles at Wrist and Neck—Cravats Much Worn.

Bodices are very simple or very complicated. Bouffant fronts and chemisettes, inseparable from the fashion of high belts, corsets and boleros, continue to be exemplified in charming fancies convenient in the composition of summer costumes. According to the purpose of the gown, the bodice is of silk, lace or wool. Many are made of faille silk crepe, embroidered tulle over silk, or linon, and on these materials are applied narrow galloon, lace insertion and similar trimmings. With the short bolero and bouffant chemisette the high belt is worn, fastening at the side under a large bow.

Tin-Plate Men May Strike.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 16.—A strike in the tin-plate industry seems certain, and the conference on the wage scale is not likely to accomplish anything tending to a settlement, as both sides are firm, and assert that no concessions will be made. There are thirty-nine tin-plate plants in the United States. These thirty-nine plants represent 188 mills, but nine of them are small affairs and do not figure to any great extent in the industry. The total number of skilled workmen employed in the industry is 2,327, of which 273 are non-union men. The number of workers outside of the tonnage men employed at the tin-plate plants is 6,265, and a strike for the new wage scale will throw about 8,000 persons out of employment.

To Discourage Lynching.

Columbus, Ohio, June 16.—The National Anti-Mob and Lynch Law association was incorporated by the secretary of state Tuesday.

The purposes of the organization are declared to be to discourage mob and lynch law within the United States and to agitate public sentiment with a view to securing such legislation as will suppress such practice by providing adequate punishment for violators. It is proposed to form branch associations all over the United States.
